Three Weddings on Wednesday-Annual Picnic of Loyal Circle, King's Daughters.

Loyal circle of King's Daughters held its annual picule on Wednesday aft-ernoon and evening at the home of Mrs. Archibald Torrance, 449 Boswell Mrs. Archibald Torrance, 449 Boswell avenue, and as is usual on these yearly occasions, the members, numbering about 18, who were present, had a delightful time. Games were played and with other outdoor pienic entertainments, including the serving of a fine supper, the hours passed pleasantly away. In charge of the successful affair was Mrs. Everett B. Dawley, assisted by Mrs. Eugene Smith.

WEDDINGS.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. James H. Whitaker, 223 Central avenue, was the scene on Wednesday evening of a pretty home wedding when their daughter. Marion Louise, was united in marriage with Dr. Ralph Montague Tewkesbury of Attleboro, Mass. Rev. Peter C. Wright of the Central Baptist church performed the ceremony, the bridal party standing before a bank of laurel. The decorations consisted of laurel, roses and carnations, the color scheme being pink and white. The bride made a charming appearance, attired in a handsome gown of white satin and chiffon, with pearl trimmings, and carried a shower bouquet of white roses and lilles of the Tewkesbury-Whitaker.

The city election on Monday was the last one at which the form of ballot which has been official will be used, as the new ballot law, which provides for the use of the Australian ballot, will go into effect July 1, says the Hartford Times. In order that there may be no misunderstanding about the provisions of the bill, the secretary of state has had the law printed in pamphlet form for the use of local officials. It places the secretary of state in the position of prescribing to himself the style of type to be used in the printing of the ballots. It suggests the delightful humor of the opera Mikado, which is now revived to the delight of everyone. The law is defective in its phraseology and it will require the wisdom of a second legislature to remedy its defects and another one to rectify the errors of the remedy. There are some laws so glaringly defective after they leave the hands of their makers as to justify the contemptuous opinion which the immortal Mr. Bumble had of law. It should perhaps, be stated that Mr. Bumble's opinion was influenced by his discovery that the law was unable to afford him relief from conjugal conditions There was a pretty wedding at high noon Wednesday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Archibaid H.
